The consumer may cancel this contract within 10 days following:

- a) either the date on which the goods sold are delivered;

To cancel this contract, the consumer must:

- a) either return the goods to the merchant;
- b) or send the merchant the attached cancellation form or another notice in writing for that purpose.

The contract is cancelled, without further formality, as soon as the consumer returns the goods or forwards the form or notice to the merchant.

Moreover, if the consumer cancels the principal contract referred to above, he may also cancel this contract by returning the goods to the merchant within 10 days following the cancellation of the principal contract.

However, the consumer may not avail himself of that right if he has been in possession of the goods for 2 months or for a period equivalent to 1/3 of the term stipulated in the principal contract, whichever is shorter.

The merchant shall assume the costs of restitution.

The merchant shall assume the risk of loss or deterioration, even by superior force, of the goods forming the object of the contract until the longer of the two terms provided for the cancellation.
