TO EDUCATIONAL CHILDCARE PROVIDERS

1. Removal of quality masks outdoors during extreme heat - CLARIFICATION

The Commission des normes, de l'équité, de la santé et de la sécurité du travail (CNESST) has declared that it is not mandatory to wear a quality mask outdoors when a heat warning has been issued by Environment Canada, even if the one-metre physical distancing cannot be respected.

Environment Canada issues a heat warning when one of the following conditions is imminent:

- a temperature of at least 30°C and a Humidex reading of 40°C or over to persist for at least one hour;
- a temperature of 40°C or over.

This temporary authorization to remove masks ends when the temperatures return to normal, i.e., below 30°C. Considering that extended wearing of a quality mask can increase heat-related discomfort, it is recommended to allow more frequent breaks and provide locations and ways to cool down.

You can refer to the CNESST documentation in effect (Coup de chaleur | Commission des normes de l'équité de la santé et de la sécurité du travail - CNESST \(gouv.qc.ca\) – in French only) and the sheet prepared by the Institut de recherche Robert-Sauvé en santé et en sécurité du travail (Y a-t-il un risque à porter un masque en contexte de chaleur en milieu de travail? > IRSST : Institut de recherche Robert-Sauvé en santé et en sécurité du travail – in French only) which offer some solutions for improving comfort.
